OOOSIER STRIKE HAS BAD BACK.

of the new movement greetings and assurances of their sympathy.

UNION IS DYING.STRIKE'S BACKBONE BROKEN.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SEATTLE, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The troubles at the Pacific Coast Company Black Diamond mine is the outgrowth of a four-years' fight of the miners against the workers of America to organize the miners of the Pacific Coast Company. The union had control of the Northern Pacific mines at Cle Elum, Roslyn, Ravensdale, Melmont and Fairbank, but the Pacific Coast Company had shut out the mine workers since 1890 when the bloody fight at Franklin was won by the Oregon Improvement Company, the predecessor of the Pacific Coast Company.

Fourteen men have been discharged by the operating company and fifty men have been laid off. Reckon it is yet critical! and urging that the firm stand by its workers.

The strike is said to be broken, and the Sheriff offers rewards for the capture of the ground can keep peace. A new wage scale will be submitted by the Mine Workers of America and the Pacific Coast Company says it is prepared to resist this demand.

Shumaker Case Takes Interesting Turn When Insurance Company Makes Sensational Announcement Relative to Disappearance of Witness Waiter in Case.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES PITTSBURGH, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Shumaker case took another interesting turn here today, when the Central Accident Company, which has been sued by the beautiful widow to recover on a policy for $10,000 on the life of her husband, an insurance agent, William Burnett, formerly a hotel waiter, wanted as a witness and who has been located by detectives at Cincinnati, had disappeared from the city, evidently at the solicitation of certain well known Pittsburgh men who have desired to keep the case at issue out of the courts.

The insurance company, which is the only one which has not settled with the widow, then made public the gist of a sensational affidavit which they claim to have received from Burnett, the waiter, before the sum of money due him from Pittsburgh. The affidavit shows pretty conclusively that there may have been much to investigate around the death of Alva P. Shumaker on the night of December 12, 1905, and bears out to a great degree the suspicion that he killed himself.

In the affidavit, Burnett sets forth that on the night in question he was a waiter in Pittsburgh's big downtown hotel and that he was ordered by the head waiter to work on a party in one of the private dining rooms. The party consisted of Mrs. Ella Flick, H. E. Flick, Shumaker, his avers, and a well known Pittsburgh business man whom he did not name. He sets forth that when he was in the act of opening a bottle of wine Alva Shumaker, husband of the woman, broke into the room and began to upstage his wife.

The woman, he says, was so angry that the husband was driven from the hotel. A short time after his mangled body was dragged from beneath a train which ran in a few squares of the hotel.

The coroner's office, while recognizing the remains of Shumaker, were unable to find Mrs. Shumaker until long after midnight, when she was driven to the morgue in a carriage,

CHICAGO'S AERO FAIR SETTLED.

PRIZES OFFERED IN AID OF AIR NAVIGATION.

Race With Elevated Train Will Form Spectacular Attraction—Various Dirigible Balloons Entered and Courses Laid Out—Novel Features Announced.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M. CHICAGO, May 22.—When Chicago's airship fair opened on Saturday, pedestrians in the downtown districts will be treated to the unique spectacle of seeing the craft of the air floating over the city, circling the Masonic Temple, racing with "L" trains and automobiles and with "E" trains and automobiles with each other.

Airship men from all over the country will enter various kinds of dirigible balloons and aeroplanes in the contest and the management has arranged for a number of races from the South Side Park to points in the downtown district.

The fair will be ushered in with a race on the opening day, the course to be from the Aero Club grounds at Sixty-fourth street and Calumet avenue to the Masonic Temple and return.

The committee of the Aero Club, which met yesterday, announced that the fair would last for at least two weeks, and that a race had been arranged for each day, weather permitting.

Among the novel features announced is a race with an elevated train from Sixty-fourth street and Calumet avenue to Twenty-second street. It is anticipated that the racing will run directly above the "L" train during the whole course. A number of races with automobiles have also been arranged.

Each navigator who succeeds in sending his aeroplane around the Masonic Temple and encircling it, returning to the starting point will receive a cash bonus of $500, while each contestant who makes a successful flight will receive a prize of $100.

Each exhibitor who erects a tent and displays a motor-propelled airship or an aeroplane or demonstrates flying ability will receive $200, in order to cover his expenses during the two weeks. Kite flying will also be made a feature of the airship fair.

INSURANCE MAN IS DISGUSTED.

SAYS COMPANY SHOW NO DISPOSITION TO OBEY LAW.

Hence He Resigns as Trustee of Mutual Life Insurance Association, At Same Time Sending Sharp Letter of Rebuke to Men Who Obstruct Gov. Hughes's Program.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES CHICAGO, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because, he says, insurance companies show no disposition to co-operate with the State in the enforcement of insurance laws and because of the failure of the New York State Senate to support Gov. Hughes in the Kelser matter, Harlow N. Higginbotham of this city has resigned as a trustee of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

Mr. Higginbotham was only recently elected as a trustee. In a letter accompanying the resignation, addressed to Wilbur F. Dix, the secretary, Mr. Higginbotham says:

"I have carefully considered my duty in connection with my election as trustee of your company. I have reviewed the correspondence leading up to the present situation; I have taken into consideration the manner of my nomination; have weighed the method of my election; reflections create a doubt in my mind as to the wisdom of accepting."

"I have followed the recent contention at Albany between the Governor and the Senate of your State, which refers to the management in office of the superintendent of the insurance department. The disposition to prolong the controversy relative to the conduct of the insurance business and the indifference or delay in the performance of the duty of the State,"

"New York to formulate and enact laws necessary for the proper regulation of the corporations that are in their franchises from the State, increase my hesitation to become a member of your board.

"It is the duty of the State of New York to see that the laws which it passes are rightly enforced. Every one concerned in life insurance should demand this because if this is not done the standing of the company in other States will be correspondingly impaired."

"I am not in sympathy with the present situation within the directorate or at Albany and as these do not seem likely to change, I must resign. You need not tender my resignation as trustee of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, to take effect at once."

PASTOR BARTLE ASKED TO LEAVE.

METHODIST MINISTER BLAMED FOR HIS BEHAVIOR.

DONTS THAT HE HAS BEEN GUILTY OF ANY INDISCRETION, BUT, CHURCH AUTHORITIES REMAIN FIRM IN THEIR CONVICTION OF HIS WRONGDOING. WILL LEAVE AT ONCE.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES DES MOINES (Ia.), May 22.—From the little town of Mechanicsville, Iowa, comes the story of the downfall of Rev. S. D. Bartle, pastor of the Methodist Church, as the result of his illicit love for a telephone girl whose name has not yet been made public.

Rumors of something wrong have been ripe for some time past, but the climax came today when the quarterly conference, after consultation with Dr. J. G. Vanness, the presiding elder, made it known to Bartle that the church did not want to hear him preach again. He acts with the official board, invited him to go upon an extended vacation.

It is understood that Rev. Bartle will leave town at once with as little publicity as possible. He has a wife and three children. His case will be officially passed upon when the United Methodist conference meets next fall.

Rev. Bartle came to Iowa highly recommended and has been looked upon as a brilliant man.

It is claimed by him that, as the result of a powerful sermon delivered by him one night in a New York mission, a rich Brooklynite who had been on a prolonged debauch was soundly awakened and is today a highly respected citizen and leader in church work.

This Brooklynite, as the token of his gratitude, paid the entire expenses of his son's trip to the Holy Land for Bartle last year. Rev. Bartle denied that he had been guilty of indiscretion, but his church is determined in its action and the pastor does not seem disposed to make a contest.

What might be called another "Made in Southern California" Exposition is the joint exhibition now being conducted by the Los Angeles Architectural Club and the Arts and Crafts Society of Los Angeles.

Twenty-five workers in the handicrafts, a visit to their collection at No. 118 South Spring street is a revelation of the artistic talent in Los Angeles.

Bookbinding, metal working, wood carving, furniture designing, painting and photography—all these are well represented in addition to architecture, which is the principal exhibit and could scarcely be surpassed. The 43 specimens are about evenly divided between the modern and the classic.

In the photograph section the portrait by Miss Anna Desmond attracts much attention. Miss Maude S. Lee has the largest number shown, and other artists represented are C. H. Burnett of Hollywood and Miss Ethel P. Bailey of Hollywood.

A popular corner in the large studio rooms is that filled with the wood carving designs of Miss Emily M. Rutherford, who includes a table, cupboard, book rack, and several frames. Perhaps the best piece is a carved emblem by A. W. Salzmann, though the large panel of natural foliage by R. E. Schmid receives recognition.

Copper Stocks --- The London-Arizona Mine

The SAFEST, QUICKEST and MOST PROFITABLE thing in the whole field of industrial investment at the present time is

Good Copper Stocks

For instance, here is the record of a few. All but one of these (the North Butte of Montana) are, you may say, right at the back door of Los Angeles, over in Arizona and Nevada, and quite within the city's proper and natural sphere of financial influence, and the profits earned by the Arizona mines mentioned amounted last year to $30,600,000. (Just think of it!—almost thirty-one millions.)

And yet our beautiful and ambitious city got almost nothing out of that vast sum—all because we have been absorbed in the fascinating occupation of swapping jack-knives among ourselves and declined to interest ourselves in the great copper mines in the great mineral empire of Arizona, all of which by the natural laws of finance and trade should belong to Los Angeles.

Our real estate values would be safer and our financial institutions would be stronger, if we had the annual profits of Arizona's great copper mines coming to reinforce them.

Well, within three years the great

London-Arizona Copper Mine

should rank with the best in that great red-metal territory.

The conditions are so favorable that Mr. Charles E. Finney, the founder of the enterprise, who was for years the general administrative manager of all the vast mine and smelter interests of the Guggenheims in the United States and Mexico, and naturally from such an experience a man of exceedingly conservative and responsible statement, estimates that when the property is put in condition to smelt 3000 tons of its ore a day, it can earn 100 per cent. a year on the price at which the first offering of treasury stock is made—and that it can do that (this is the notable and unmatched feature of the statement) with

Copper Selling at 13½ Cents a Pound

It couldn't do that unless it could produce its finished copper at as low a cost as any mine in the world—and the cost of producing the finished metal, laid down in New York, is the final test of the value of a copper mine. The London-Arizona property covers 1280 acres of a copper deposit which good judges assert is

The Biggest Thing, The Quickest Thing And the Easiest Thing

In copper ever opened in Arizona. It can begin to earn dividends very soon. But it cannot earn the big dividends mentioned till the enterprise is in full operation.

Here is a list of copper mines and prospects with whose record the future of the great London-Arizona may be compared:

Nevada Consolidated, Ely, Nevada.....	6,500,000	5.00	16.00	20,800,000

These last three are new Nevada copper companies, that have been listed within the last year and a half. They are very fine properties, with large and reliable bodies of low grade ore that has to be concentrated before it can be smelted. They furnish a favorable standard of comparison for the London-Arizona in that they are all still in the prospect stage, and neither of them has ever paid a dividend or produced a pound of finished copper. They are, nevertheless, great copper properties, and their present market price is not in excess of their real future value as profit-earners. The best one of them has less than half the acreage of the London-Arizona, and they are not likely to be able to earn dividends sooner than the London-Arizona. The present market prices of those three really sound and valuable copper stocks therefore furnishes a safe indication of the prices that purchasers of the London-Arizona stock may hope to see their holdings rated at within a very few months, as soon as the company is in a position to have its stock listed on the New York and Boston Exchanges.

Those great Ely properties, once they reach the dividend-earning stage, will of course be rated very much higher than at present, but we confidently believe the London-Arizona will pay dividends as soon as either of them.

With equal confidence we believe that 30 to 40 months hence the London-Arizona will rank fully up to the present quoted market values of those two most admirably young properties—the North Butte and the Calumet and Arizona.

These are two of the finest copper properties of the younger group of first-class producers. They share with the London-Arizona the fundamental advantage of a management thoroughly experienced in all the technical and administrative business of producing copper.

They share also with the London-Arizona the advantage of possessing a vast and reliable tonnage of direct-smelting ore of good average grade.

It cannot therefore be fairly questioned that the London-Arizona will presently be able to share equally with the public confidence as to both its management and its resources which makes them favorite investment stocks. They are two among a very small number of companies able to produce copper close to the very minimum cost, and it is our candid belief that, on the same scale of production, the London-Arizona will be able to lay its finished output down in the New York market a shade lower than either of them.

It is hardly necessary to mention that the cost of the product laid down in the market—the price at which it can be sold without any loss whatever—is the final and complete test of the value of a copper property.

As we assert and insist that in from 30 to 40 months the London-Arizona will rank with the Calumet and Arizona and the North Butte, we give here their record to date, that there may in the future be no question as to precisely what we claim for the London-Arizona.

The Calumet & Arizona

Location, Bisbee, Arizona.

Organized, March, 1895. Property, twelve claims.

Capitalized, $10,000,000. Shares, par $15.00.

Works 625 men at the mines.

Production, 1905, 21,772,889 pounds copper.

Average copper content, 7.82 per cent.

Cost of producing, 1905, 7.02 cents a pound.

Stocks, nominal $15.00 a share or at the rate of $1,500,000 for the whole property.

March, 1907, stock sold at $198 a share or at par.

Cost of producing, 7.4-10 cents per pound.

Par of shares, $15.00. Sold January 7, 1907, at $120 a share.

Paid in dividends for 1906, $20.00 per share.

Profit by increase in value, 322 per cent. both reckoned on the cost of $15.00 a share to last purchasers of stock.

450 per cent. a year.

The above figures are official and may be relied upon implicitly.

The London-Arizona Copper Company

Is located at the junction of the Gila and San Pedro rivers in Gila county, Arizona, three miles from Phoenix and Eastern R.R. It contains 68 claims (about 1280 acres), and has, we believe in perfect good faith, a dependable ore body equal to 83,000,000 tons of a self-fluxing, smelting ore that will average at least 5 per cent. (100 pounds the ton) in copper content—a perfectly self-fluxing ore, observe, that can be mined unusually cheaply, transported from the mine to the smelter for 5 cents a ton and dumped right into the furnace without any of the usual expense of "mixing."

We desire most especially to avoid exaggeration in presenting this great property to our clients. But we believe in absolute good faith that it is

The BIGGEST thing, the QUICKEST thing, and the EASIEST thing in copper ever opened in Arizona.

It is capitalized at $10,000,000, par value of shares, $10.

The price of the first offering is $6. We have maps and the most responsible reports. Pray step into our office and examine them.

The North Butte

Location, Butte, Montana.

Organized, April, 1895.

Capitalization, $9,000,000.00. Shares, par $15.00.

The police believe that there is much behind the case which is not explained.

At the City Jail Dr. Girling said that he is not a licensed optician but gives as an excuse his past practice and states that he was an optician prior to the age of 18. He is now requiring an optician to secure a license.

Dr. Girling says that he was intending to leave in a few days for the East. It is alleged that the motive of those behind the arrest was to keep the doctor from leaving immediately.

MUSIC AND THE STAGE.

Mrs. Fiske is to try out a new play in Los Angeles. Some information has leaked out concerning the piece, but it is said that it is now in rehearsal, on the road, and that it will be first presented to the public on the last night of Mrs. Fiske's local engagement.

It is to be produced for her New York opening next year.

Thus Los Angeles will see it—fortunately, if it's good—three months before the metropolis. If it's bad, the West will probably get it before the infliction can get back East.

Rumors have just reached Los Angeles that the San Carlo Opera Company has found endowment, and a permanent winter home in Boston.

Among the patrons and patrons-of-the-Russell organization is the rich Mrs. John L. Gardner, known to contemporary fame as Mrs. "Jack" Gardner.

The Boston theater, the biggest playhouse in the Hub, and possessing the largest stage in the country, save that at the Chicago Auditorium, has been retained for the company next season. It is planned, at present, to give Boston an opera of her own, la la, the Metropolitan of New York. This, of course, would not interfere with the tour of the late winter and spring.

Mr. Russell has just started for Italy, to engage three new stars of the Italian lyric stage. Constantino will be the principal tenor next year.

Among the summer productions here will be a new dramatization of Amelie Riva's "Tannish, the Sang Digger."

The novel is being put into stage form by Dr. C. W. Bachman, whose "Under the Bear" played to great box office a short time ago, and the stage will be done by Miss Hilda Gilbert and Hobart Bosworth. The presentation will be made at the Belasco Theater June 15.

Mr. Bosworth and Miss Gilbert will play the principal parts. Other roles will be taken by Miss Florence Smythe, Miss Virginia Berry, Mr. Lowell and others of the Belasco stock company.

A large number of society women will be at the opening.

The Burbank company will lay off during the week of Mrs. Fiske's engagement at that theater. At first it was proposed to visit San Francisco, but since Mrs. Fiske's engagement is only for six months, traveling time would only leave a possible four days in the northern city.

Next week's production, "Lady of Quality," will be continued over Sunday, Monday and on Monday night, June 15.

Mrs. Fiske will open in "The New York Idea."

William Ludwig Plitt has just published two large piano compositions, of serious character. One of these is a ballad in flat major, the other a waltz in melody, smoothly harmonized and generally well constructed, dedicated to J. M. Elliott. The other is an "American Rhapsody," with a new theme embodying several of the well-known patriotic airs.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Sign painters are making a protest at the City Hall against a proposed new illuminating sign ordinance now under consideration by the Committee of the Whole.

A special Council committee is trying to frame an ordinance designating a safety fender for interurban cars that will not endanger the lives of pedestrians.

Commissioner Edwards is striving to maintain the streets in the business section in "Picture condition."

H. N. Nash, who is proposed to appear in the Superior Court and explain some circumstances in his wife's divorce suit against him, gave testimony yesterday which convinced Judge Monroe that the decree granted to Mrs. Emma L. Nash, last Monday, should be set aside.

The young woman arrested in Pasadena Tuesday night on a charge of forgery, is said to have made a clean breast of her criminal transactions. She will be prosecuted, of course, but no effort will be made to secure her release on a technicality.

The crusade now being waged against careless druggists by the State Board of Pharmacists resulted in several convictions in the Police Court yesterday. There are a number of cases yet to be tried.

AT THE CITY HALL.

WILL CONSIDER NEW SIGN LAW.

LIGHTING COMPANIES FAVORED, SAY PROTESTANTS.

Council Committee of the Whole Prepares to Investigate Provisions of the New Bill Before Adopting It as an Ordinance—Mayor Its Author. Fender Tribulations.

A general protest from sign painters has gone to the City Hall against an electric street sign ordinance which was read at last Monday's session of the Council and referred to the committee of the whole. The proposed new law makes provision for swinging electrical signs, which are to be fastened in front of a building by day and swing over the sidewalk at night.

Naturally the sign painters have centered on Councilman Dromgold to present their grievances to the legislators. Yesterday Dromgold passed about to each Councilman a copy of the proposed ordinance, and yesterday morning the committee of the whole will hold a meeting to discuss its provisions.

The complaint of the sign painters appears to be that the ordinance is drawn for the benefit of the electric lighting companies and the metal workers. It contains a provision that the signs must be of non-combustible material. This means metal and metal letters.

They have also taken exception to the provision that the signs must be lighted continuously—by electricity from 8:30 o'clock in the afternoon until midnight.

Inquiry developed yesterday that the ordinance was drawn by Assistant City Attorney Robert R. Paine under the direction of Mayor Harper. The Chief Executive resents the allegation that any of its provisions were drawn up by the suggested by the electric companies.

"That ordinance is copied from laws in effect in Chicago and New York," said Mr. Paine. He added: "Several months ago the Council passed an ordinance which I was compelled to veto by reason of the number of technical errors it contained. I think that ordinance was similar to the one presented to the Council Monday."

The new ordinance makes provision for electric light signs that shall swing across the sidewalks in the evening. They have seen such signs used in other cities; they are highly ornamental and they convert a modest thoroughfare into a scene of white way.

"I hope that the Council will amend the ordinance, as it will add materially to the illumination of our business streets at night."

FENDER TRIBULATIONS.

COUNCIL IN QUANDARY.

Council legislation is holding the center of the stage in the Council committee rooms this week. Ten days ago a Council committee went on a trip of inspection over lines of the interurban railways for the purpose of considering whether they should require that all interurban cars be equipped with fenders similar to those carried by the street cars.

Returning from this inspection, the four legislators expressed themselves as of the opinion that it is not practical to require the manufacturers of the interurban lines to fit fenders.

Yesterday the committee voted to let the fenders remain as they are, and that there is grave danger that the fenders will buckle beneath cars and cause wrecks that otherwise would not occur.

Monday the Council directed the City Attorney to prepare and present next Monday an ordinance which will require the present law requiring beach cars to carry the springy safety fenders. Yesterday attorney Mr. Hewitt's office called the attention of the Council to the fact that such legislation would leave no requirement whatever for fenders on interurban cars. In the committee room the "Fender Committee" considered the question of equipment for the interurban lines. All were of the opinion that these cars should be compelled to carry a fender that will give some measure of protection to persons unfortunate enough to be caught in front of the beach cars.

Attorneys for the interurban lines represent that it is not practicable to require the present law requiring beach cars to carry the springy safety fenders. Yesterday attorney Mr. Hewitt's office called the attention of the Council to the fact that such legislation would leave no requirement whatever for fenders on interurban cars.

Councilmen hope a fender may be devised that can be shod by the outgoing cars and then pass along until it is picked up again when the car returns.

FOR BETTER STREETS.

REFORMS DEMANDED.

Street Commissioner Edwards is making a strenuous effort to refute the statement in the business district in a condition something akin to those of the spring festival.

The street maintenance bureau received a number of complimentary letters on the condition of the streets. Frank C. Clark, who has been discovered that the contractors and corporation that were on their good behavior while the Shriners were here are relating into their old dirty habit.

Tuesday, inspectors in the street department stopped excavation work conducted by employees of the water department on Third street. Wednesday a gas company received similar treatment. In each instance the excavation for laying pipes was not performed in accordance with city ordinance.

"I am determined that the surface of the streets shall be kept in proper repair," said Mr. Edwards yesterday.

I notified the water department that it could be enforced, observe the city regulations just the same as any private company.

HER TRAGEDY
DEATH ENDS.Lover in Jail On Suspicion of

Victim of Poison.Two Attempts at Suicide in Life's History.Thousands of miles from the home where she loved her, wait in the warden who will never see her again. Mrs. Olga Wilson, wife of John Wilson of Atlantic City, lies on a new slab at the Pierce mortuary, having been victim of cocaine poisoning.
Detectives Murray and Moore, by the circumstances of her tragic act, are anxious day and night in order to find out whether Richard and the woman's lover, administer the drug to her as she rested in the hospital ward of the County Hospital.Wilson, who was registered at the hotel Royal. When he called up from another place, we described all the symptoms of poisoning and told him to bring his wife to us and call for him. He asked if she had said anything and we repeated that she was calling for him. He hurried out here and we had him arrested when he arrived.The circumstances of the death were the most peculiar that have ever come to my attention and while the analysis may clear the man, I feel that the arrest of the woman was warranted by the circumstances.An examination of the body by the Coroner last night showed the woman alive but in a normal condition at the time of her death. It is believed that the man who was holding her in his arms when she died, will be arrested.Wilson is supposed to have killed her by drinking poison which her sweetheart, Richard Hardy, the man who was holding her when she died, is suspected of having administered to her Tuesday evening. As she lay gasping for breath, the contents of the stomach of the Coroner's Chemist and his analysis is anxiously awaited.Wilson's history would have dictated itself to the pen of a man like Carril. It is the story of the woman in which was wrecked a whole life.

SHOUTS HERSELF.

Assisted by all that would have helped to the ordinary girl, Olga Wilson, a debutante of Jersey City, was won by John W. Wil-son, who was a normal boy for his age, her sweetheart, is watched in the City Jail. The verdict of the coroner will either send him to prison or set him free. The most terrible scenes in the annals of police work will be enacted when the circumstances of the fatal ending are known.Wilson is supposed to have

GOES TO LAW

TO GET WIFE.

ALSO LESLIE IS ANXIOUS TO RE-COVER STOCK.Telegrapher Granted Writ of Habeas Corpus for His Better Half, Who Holds Valuable Securities—Charges that Her Friends Hold Her in Durance Against Will.IRIS B. Leslie, a telegrapher and has worked many years at his trade.
Some time ago, while a station agent in the little town of Palmer, Colo., between Denver and Colorado Springs, he picked up 40 shares of stock in the Eagle mine near there. It wasn't worth much, but then every man in Colorado is supposed to carry mining stock on general principles.Some time ago Leslie came to Los Angeles and brought his wife and this mining stock along. Recently he left the city to take an outside job and Mrs. Iris B. Leslie went to live with Mr. and Mrs. Martin B. Callahan at No. 1788 East Forty-sixth street, who are friends of hers.Meanwhile it was discovered that the deceased worthless Eagle mine stock had been sold at something like $10 a share.
This would make the 400 shares held by Mr. Leslie but really in possession of his wife, Leslie, approximately worth $4,000.

When Mr. Leslie returned to Los Anges a short time ago he states that he went to the home of the Callahans and told them he wanted his wife and stock, but that the Callahans would not permit him to see his wife. Leslie was mad and threatened legal proceedings, but all the same he did not see Mrs. Leslie.

Then he hurried to his attorney,

Henry H. Roser, and demanded that the Callahans be forced to give up their matrimonial rights.

Leslie applied for a writ of habeas corpus to Judge Monroe in the Superior Court and it was granted and made returnable this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

This writ is to be served on the Callahans, they are cited to bring

Mrs. Leslie into court if she is in their custody, or show cause why she should not be returned to her husband intact

as man and wife.

Leslie himself makes all kinds of charges against the friends of his wife and blames them for the estrangement between him and his wife. On the other hand, it is stated that Mrs.

Leslie desires to live apart from her husband because of his alleged fondness for women.

As it is, the court officers hardly believe that Mrs. Leslie will be brought into court today, but that she will disappear after her own accord.

The question now is, what is to be done?

But anyway, Mrs. Leslie has nothing to do with the manners of her husband. Both Mr. and Mrs. Leslie are of middle age.

ROPE FOR VILLAIN.

train, the condition of the roadbed and of the wrecking apparatus. Diagrams also were made by draughtsmen showing exactly how the train lay after it went down into the wash.

HOW DEED WAS DONE.

In pursuit of his dastardly work, the wrecker broke into a toolhouse of the company at West Glendale and secured therefrom a sawhorse, two lengths of iron pipe. With the bar he removed the spikes from the inner side of a thirty-three-foot rail, the outer rail of the westbound track. He also removed the bolt which held the single iron spike to this rail to the next one east in this work, he was careful not to disturb the copper wires that bound the rails, completing the circuit for the block signal system. The wire had been broken, the block signal would have stood at danger and the train would have been brought to a stop before reaching the spot.

With the rail free to move toward the center of the track the ingenious fiend attached a strand of barbwire to the rail, passing the free end under the opposite side of the westbound track, fence across the space separating the east-bound and west-bound tracks, and then under both rails of the westbound track.

The loose end of the wire was attached firmly to one of the lengths of iron pipe and this pipe was braced against the end of a tie of the westbound track in such a manner as to prevent its movement.

Still another length of wire was attached to the end of the iron pipe and to the other end of this wire was affixed a wooden bar that gave the culprit a strong grip that, with a good strong pull, he would be sure to throw the rail out of position.

CONCEALED IN WEEDS.

Retreating into the weeds that line the county road just outside the railroad right of way, the wrecker, holding the free end of the wire, concealed himself until the mail car came rushing along at a speed of thirty-five miles an hour, about four hours behind time. Measurements made by railroad men yesterday show that he was concealed at a spot where the mail car fell from the rail that he displaced, the distance being the length of the wire with which he did the work.

The clever to displace the rail while the train was moving, he held his breath until the mail car telescopically the track for hundreds of yards in front of the train, the wrecker waited until the engine was about upon the scene of destruction.

With the loose rail now loose, the fellow gave one strong pull, the rail slipped inward, and the wreck was on.

By a strange freak, the pilot wheels and the engine, the engine leaded the break, quickly followed by the mail car, the combination buffet and baggage car, the dining car and the parlor cars Arville and Bonheur.

The dining car was at the very brink of the Verdugo wash. The next rail rests three feet on the bank and the remainder of its length on the long trestle that spans the creek, now dry.

JUMBLE OF CARS.

Plunging from the bank, the engine tank and the cars were scattered in the jumble of hundreds of feet. The mail car, immediately following the engine, went off at a tangent and landed clear of the engine. The buffet-baggage car cornered the engine tank, the dining and parlor cars stopped on their sides, and the other cars, rear turned, lighting on its roof.

Strangely enough, there was no hysteria such as might be expected at such a time. Passengers piled out of the cars as fast as they could release themselves and set about assisting those who had been pinned in their berths. They worked quietly but effectively. A hasty canvass of the situation, however, disclosed the fact that while many passengers were injured more or less severely, no one in the sleepers had been killed.

One of the mail clerks extricated himself from the wreckage and stumbled over the body of T. J. McMahon, a young electrician from Santa Barbara, who had been crushed in the wreckage and instantly killed. The supposition was that he was beating his way on the platform of the mail car but E. L. McMahom, a brother, who is employed here by the Home Telephone Company, says he is satisfied the young man was a regular passenger on the train, although he says he can not account for his presence on the mail car.

ALARM IS SPREAD.

Before the victims of the wreck had time to think of anything but immediate relief for the injured, No. 7, the San Joaquin Valley passenger train leaving Los Angeles at 11:30 o'clock p.m., reached the scene on its way north. It stopped at the wreck for a few minutes, then whirled on to Burbank, where the lights flashed by telegraph to the train dispatcher, who telephoned to the train dispatcher at River Station, and the wrecker was ordered out, together with a relief train bearing surgeons. Most of the injured were brought into Los Angeles on the local train on the Colorado Line, No. 22, which was following the Shore Line Limited at a short distance.

While working in the wreckage after dark, the wrecker crew came across the body of another victim, apparently a tramp who was beating his way on the trucks of one of the cars or on the platform of the mail car. This body was found to be a woman whose dress is unknown. This body, with that of McMahon, is at the undertaking rooms of Bresce Bros. in this city.

All day the wrecking crew worked on the twisted remains of the mail car.

Yesterday another train probably will pass before the wrecked cars are raised and the track in passable condition.

Meanwhile all trains are moving over the westbound track and there is little, if any, delay to traffic.

ENGINEER FIRST CREW.

Charles McCarn, engineer of the wrecked train, has been in the employ of the Southern Pacific for twenty-five years. In all that time he has never before been in a wreck. His engine did not leave the embankment but clung to the rails and leaped across the gap, the engine and car falling into the wash. He remained in his cab, quickly shut off steam and applied the brakes, at the same moment shouting to his fireman to turn off the oil. This greatest dare of his life, the first moment of his career, was the first thought of the intrepid engineer as he realized that dead and wounded passengers were in the ditch behind his engine.

McCarn refused to discuss the thrilling wreck beyond the briefest outline of his part in the affair. He stuck to it that he did only his duty in saving the lives of his passengers.

He declared he had no thought of jumping even when the tender plunged into the ditch.

CHAMBER OF MINES.

Plan Outlined for Investigation of Mining Properties

Generally.

A meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Mines was held Tuesday afternoon, and the committee on investigations and reports of mining properties made its report.

It was decided to divide the investigation into three general classes, one to consist of mining properties which are to be registered with the chamber, and covering which the chamber's certificate will be issued, and the other class to consist of mining properties which are to be registered with the chamber's official report of findings.

He declared he had no thought of jumping even when the tender plunged into the ditch.

Fireman W. W. McGregor says he was in the service of railroad men. McCarn refused to discuss the thrilling wreck beyond the briefest outline of his part in the affair. He stuck to it that he did only his duty in saving the lives of his passengers.

He declared he had no thought of jumping even when the tender plunged into the ditch.

Conductor BATTERED.

Thrilling was the experience of Conductor Frank Blessington, who was in the buffet car when the wreck occurred.

Blessington was talking with a passenger, who had just asked him if the train would get into Los Angeles in time to catch the last car. Blessington never answered the question. At that moment the buffet car leaped from the track.

"We had a splendid train," said Blessington, speaking of the wreck.

"All equipped with fine furnishings, steel framed, and of the latest pattern. We were moving along at thirty-five and forty miles an hour on one of the best pieces of track over which we pass. Suddenly the whole train quivered like a frightened horse, then over the embankment. His eyes are blackened and his face is cut. He has been with the company since 1891 and is a true employee."

The more were not injured is explained by the statement of Conductor Blessington who says many of his passengers left the train at Santa Barbara station on the local train on the Colorado Line, No. 22, which was following the Shore Line Limited at a short distance.

While working in the wreckage after dark, the wrecker crew came across the body of a tramp who was beating his way on the trucks of one of the cars or on the platform of the mail car.

brief outline of the cause of the trouble. Garvin did not commit himself. He said:

Cunningham did not give me a straight answer when I asked him about the shares in the Hermosa mine. I have about 30,000 shares of stock in that mine, and I wanted it to be known that he still held them.

Mitchell intends to make her still持 her shares. He put me off and I called him a name. Then he struck me."

The old man paused at this point.

"I am an old man, nearly 45 years of age," he said. "This is the worst trouble I ever got into. You want me to tell you how it happened? Well, I had asked him about his folio. I then asked him to introduce me to do the same with his. He told me he had sold his shares. I met Cunningham yesterday on South Broadway and just got back.

"I asked him again about his shares. He put me off and I called him a name. Then he struck me."

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

A surprise to many of her friends, comes the wedding of Miss Jessie Goodwin, a musician of this city, to Edward E. Collier of Redondo. The ceremony took place last evening at 8:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. A. Goodwin, No. 1621 Grandview street. Rev. Pritchard of the Second Presbyterian Church officiated. The home was decorated beautifully for the affair by the Misses Dwyer. The couple stood in the drawing room beneath a canopy of asparagus ferns and sweet peas from which were suspended many dainty bell flowers. Bunches of white sweet peas tied with raffia further decorated this room, and stately Easter lilies formed

Mrs. Norton's Musicals.

Pretty girls' programs of splendid music and dancing of a large number of society matrons and maidens made the benefit musicals given yesterday afternoon and evening one of the most delightful affairs from a financial as well as a social point of view. The money brought to the coffers were for the improvement fund of St. John's Church, and it was to this end that Mrs. Norton opened her beautiful home to the public.

From a social viewpoint. That Miss Yaw is to sing is always a joy to her many admirers here, and that the music is to be given by the Newshoys' Home, this brilliant young woman's pet project, gives an added zest. Beside those prominent women already mentioned who were to participate in the affair, the following names are added: Misses H. M. Sale, Jefferson D. Gibbs, William J. Scholl, Mary J. Schaeffer, McIntyre and J. P. Deane.

Miss Wiseman Entertains.

Miss Janette Wiseman of No. 1126 South Magnolia avenue entertained the Western Presbyterians Christian Endeavor Society at her home Tuesday evening of this week. It being the evening for the monthly business meeting, the officials of the society arrived early and after the business was transacted a delightful musical programme was given, consisting of piano, vocal and mandolin solos and quartettes. Delightful refreshments were served following the programme. Among those present were: Miss Ethel Phelps, Miss Bertha Phelps, Miss Minnie Meyer, Miss Marie Meyers, Miss Frances Dodd, Miss Ruth Clegg, Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Boyles, Mrs. Dodd, George Cleek, Marion Dodd, Fred Spaulding, Charles Nourse, Thelma Nourse, Master Ralph Reed and Mr. Covington.

At Home of Mrs. Jeffreys.

At the home of Mrs. J. W. Jeffreys, the newly-elected president of the Highland Park Elks Club, the ladies of the club gave a reception Tuesday afternoon, May 28, very delightful musical programme has been prepared for the afternoon by Mrs. M. T. Colby, including piano duet, Spanish Music, Mandolin, Violin, Louise Ross and Helen Griffith, vocal solo "Roses of June" (Gerald Jane), Miss Georgia Watkins; vocal solo (selected), Misses Gertrude and Blanche (Chamindas), Miss S. J. Brown, "Love's Old Sweet Song" (Mallory-Smith); chorus of young ladies; vocal duet: "Once We Were May"; Misses C. W. A. Roberts and Miss Blanche Donnell; vocal solo "The Sea Hatch Its Pearls" (Condell).

Mrs. Norton's Steel Shares.

Pretty girls' programs of splendid music and dancing of a large number of society matrons and maidens made the benefit musicals given yesterday afternoon and evening one of the most delightful affairs from a financial as well as a social point of view. The money brought to the coffers were for the improvement fund of St. John's Church, and it was to this end that Mrs. Norton opened her beautiful home to the public.

The grounds were converted into a fairyland of loveliness. Within a night dainty bower, over which snowy roses clambered, Indian tepees and pretty booths were erected in extensive glade overflowing with beatiful maidens in daintiest of lingerie gowns. In the tepee, Indian maid presided and told wondrous fortunes, while in an attractive little booth, fortune tellers and cooling things were served. On the broad verandas tea was served by a number of handsome girls and matrons. The fairies had made the adaptors for an affair of this sort, for the large grounds, covered with foliage and spreading lawn, are charming for booths, while within is arranged a most stage in the reception room more effective for music and dramatic scenes.

The programme presented by some of the most prominent artists of the city proved to be a brilliant success. One of the highlights of the day was the mandolin orchestra trained by Theodore Best and made up of fascinating chubby youngsters gowned in fancy costumes. The girls in their full-fledged Puritan maid and a blushing young Juliet, while one golden-haired maid covered with roses sported as the Queen of May. These youngsters gave excellent performances in the light of their audience. In the afternoon, Signor Domenico Russo sang the aria from "Rigoletto" and other numbers, bringing out rounds of applause. He was a great voice. He dedicated to several encores. Miss Louise Nixon Hill as a fair Irish lassie wearing the green sang those two sweet old songs, "Kathleen Mavourneen" and "Rory O'More." Accompanying Miss Nixon Hill were Miss Fuhrer, violin, and Miss Bentley, piano, were heard in a number of exquisite selections. Miss Edith Herren, soprano, and a trio of young voices, sang with heart quality, sang to the delight of the guests. Miss Gertrude Cohen, that brilliant little genius of the piano, gave several numbers, excellent from every viewpoint.

Following the musicals, the afternoon was a scene from "Misapah," presented by Miss Blanche Hall and William Desmond. It was a subtle bit of art presented by the two actors.

Miss Hall made a charmingly feminine Esther, while Mr. Desmond's part, the King, was extremely well taken. In the evening, the following entertainment was given: Mr. Rodman, Miss Hall, Mrs. Walter Raymond, Miss Gertrude Cohen and Mrs. Bond Francisco. Walter F. Chimes accompanist, and the Ladies' Victorian Orchestra discussed sweet music.

Among those who assisted Mrs. Norton in receiving were Elizabeth and Mrs. Morris, Mrs. George, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Miner, Walter B. Cline, Margaret Hobbs, Albert Crutcher, Summer P. Hunt, J. E. Cowles, Willoughby Rodman, Howard MacCharles R. D. E. Fleisch, Kate Yoshino, E. Coles, Emma Cheatham and Fran Kelsey. Miss Pearl Seeley and her group of pretty girl assistants were in charge of the refreshments.

Interesting news to many friends is that of the engagement of Miss Alberta Cox, an attractive girl, recently from Jacksonville, Ill., to Will F. Henderson of this city. The Misses Cox are a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cox, who are temporarily residing on West Fifty-ninth street. The

They are Miss Roen of Columbus, Neb., and Miss Siggins of North York, Wash. To meet them some fifty young society women have been asked to a lawn party. Each guest will come in quaint costume of muslin or brocade, with a hat and a corsage of the trees and flowers. Later, several of these girls will take part in the Old South entertainment in Wilcox Hall, and many of the others are planning to attend in their fancy costumes.

How We Made It Possible for You to Share in the Profits of This Valuable Invention

When the Delaware and Lackawanna Steel Company, the first steel plant in the country to operate with the improved Wills process, first came to our attention we investigated it thoroughly. We found that i men back of it. We liked the conservative capitalization—only $200,000.00 for so great a proposition. We learned that it was an immense plant, iron and brass founders, located on four acres of land almost beneath the shadow of New York City, Jersey City, and Brooklyn, and that municipalities, subways and railroads had already offered the company more business than it could turn out in a year. We found that the closeness of the plant to these three big cities was only one of the advantages points in connection with the location of the plant. We found that it was right in the heart of the biggest iron mines in New Jersey, which can furnish the company more pig iron in a month than it can possibly use in a year, and that without expensive hauling charges. We found that it was only a question of a few months when the plant would be ready for business. That pleased us—it meant there would be no long waiting for dividends.

We found that steel men everywhere who had investigated the Wills process were in declining it the greatest improvement in the industry since the Bessemer converter, and who conceded that it is only a question of time when every steel plant in the country will have to install the Wills converters in order to compete for business. We found that it would take years to bring about this change. That meant that in the meantime Delaware and Lackawanna stockholders would undoubtedly become rich.

We found that Edwin Cooper Wills, the inventor, had been in the steel business since he was 16 years of age. That he had already made many practical improvements to the steel industry than any steelmaker since Sir Henry Bessemer. We found that the United States government had adopted steel made by the new Wills process and had ordered its cruiser St. Louis fitted with castings made by the Wills process. We found that contractors subways, railroads and shipbuilders all over the country were clamoring for steel made better, cheaper and quicker, and that the demand for steel made by the Wills process was created long before Mr. Wills invented his process.

GIVE BIG QUESTIONS ONE YEAR TO GROW.

Advocates of Apostolic Plan Win in the Dunker Conference—They Give Freely, but Don't Want to Be Told How Much.

THE General Conference of the German Baptist Brethren, now in session in Temple Auditorium, will, in all probability, not complete its business this week. Such is the opinion of those who are acquainted with the annual proceedings.

A delegate was asked yesterday whether anything ever gets before the conference that is not scheduled in the "Conference Booklet," which is prepared in advance from the minutes of the preceding year. His reply was that sometimes something crept in.

It is a fact that up to last night nothing had crept in, and all the hard questions were put over till next year, which seems to be the regular order.

The discussion of the question concerning athletics in the Brethren schools, the complaint regarding textbook rates, the question of the schools serving students who do not conform to Dunker rules of dress, that of paying salaries to ministers, eight delegations in the baptismal service, admitting women to officiate at communion, are all among the things put up said that "We encourage the growing spirit of giving, and advocate the practice of one-tenth, or even more. We commend the systematic giving and teaching."

It might be better understood if it is explained that the motto of the Dunker church is the New Testament gospel, in toto, and there is strenuous objection from some to coming under the law of the Old Testament.

No sooner had the recommendation of the committee been presented than Elder Hay, the frank-looking Virginian, but who is powerful in debate, was on his feet.

"I don't like it; I don't like the word of the law in connection with the gospel," he shouted. "I cannot endorse the action of the committee, that will enjoin tithing unless they can show by the gospel that they can enjoin, recommend or enforce tithing. We cannot accept it."

There is no room in the New Testament, there is no room for anything about tithing. Give and give freely, but do not say how much; the responsibility belongs to the individual. We cannot make it a command. It will never stand. It is against the very genius and principles of the Brethren church."

J. H. Moore, editor of the Gospel Herald, was one of the first to come to the defense of Elder Hay over the body of delegates, and he made a short but cannot appeal for the report of the committee, in which he said that the giving of one-tenth is older than the gospel itself.

S. Z. Sharp said: "I like the gospel in it; give and give freely, but we don't want any such expression as 'tithing' or 'one-tenth,' that is law."

The speaker was then asked if he did not carry it out just leave the law out, isn't the gospel able to stand without the support of the law?"

Elder N. H. Beahm fired this one at the committee: "We have a growing tendency to add an affix or suffix to the scripture, and I would like to know what portion of the scripture the committee has in mind."

The committee made no move to enlighten him, and L. B. Trout got the door to say that he wanted to see the "flavor of the law" removed from the conference. "There is nothing that can stand. I cannot have any one who can stand up here and say that the one-tenth is not the spirit of the new century."

W. C. Hopkins protested against the adoption of anything that would interfere with the spirit of giving as suggested by the heart.

L. B. Trout, at this juncture in the debate, addressed the committee, saying that all reference to tithing, and declaring simply that "this annual meeting would encourage the growing spirit of giving as found in the New Testament."

This substitute was almost unanimously adopted without further debate.

SISTERS REJECTED.

There were several memorials before the conference asking that a committee be appointed to make arrangements for the proper observance in 1925 of the biennial of the formation of the Brethren church. The first one on the aff for another year, some of them for the third time. When the conference adjourned last night the question of formalizing the word "fashionable" from theistic practice was left unsolved.

There is no flagging in the attendance, nor close attention to the conference, and the interest was attractive as usual yesterday.

The following school-visiting boards were appointed yesterday: Junta College, D. A. Miller; Pittsburgh College, H. G. Miller; Mt. Morris College, S. L. Newcomer; C. M. Sutter; McPherson College, M. Keller; North Manchester College, W. R. Deeter; Elkhorn College, George Chamberlain.

The committee having in hand the question of women being permitted to break the communion bread and pass it to others, did not make any members. Instead of receiving them from the officiating bishop, gave notice that it was not ready to report.

The committee on Ministerial Support asked further time, and it was granted.

SUBJECT OF TITHING?

The last item under the head of unfinished business was taken up in the morning, and occupied the major portion of the entire day. It was on the subject of tithe, which the committee had introduced into the General Conference last year from the McPherson, Kan., church, and continued for one year. It recommended that each member of the church tithe in the interest of more effective work.

The Standing Committee presented it to the conference yesterday without a recommendation. J. H. Moore expresses the opinion that the committee should have brought it in with a recommendation.

C. Crusacker and W. C. Hopkins and both made motions in favor of adopting some plan of systematic giving, the latter saying that when a person is poor he should give one-tenth and increase the gift as the Lord provides him.

Elder D. Hay, the Henry Clay of Virginia, declared that in this age we have reached a higher plane than to give one-tenth on one and use the sword on the other.

"So we have a higher law than tithe," he said. "It is not out of necessity, it is out of choice."

J. H. Beahm said: "Giving by compulsion knocks out the cheerfulness, giving liberally, cheerfully, as God would have us do, is the key."

W. C. Hopkins said: "What is the use of condemning the Jews if we are not as good as giving to them? It is a great hardship to be transferred from the tithe condition to a giving condition. Some systematic system of giving that expresses a means of grace is greatly desired."

J. W. Lear, one of the clearest representatives of the conference, said that if tithe is to be given, let the people go to gospel giving, in a way that they will deserve a better name, and they will do nothing to make it compulsory."

The Standing Committee came in with a recommendation that a committee of five be appointed, but nothing was said about the two sisters.

An effort was made by Elder Sharp to have the sisters remain on the committee, but the proposition went through as offered, and the moderator appointed the following committee to make arrangements and prepare a program for the observance of the program to be issued not later than January 1, 1925: D. L. Miller, Illinois; G. M. Falkenstein, Pennsylvania; L. N. Beahm, Pennsylvania; M. G. Grumbau, Pennsylvania; S. N. McCann, India.

From Oklahoma and Pennsylvania came memorials asking that certain contributions, and amounts received, be permitted to be disposed of before going into the water. This request was made because of the statements made during several intermissions. After consultation with the delegates as to why they made the request, it was decided to give it over to a special committee and wait another week.

UPPER HOUSE FLOORED.

At the opening of the afternoon session, the Standing Committee came in with a recommendation, in which it

SANTA BARBARA MAGISTRATE SHOWS MERCY.

Hubby's Money Gives Out at Early Stage in the Honeymoon and He Induces His Life Partner to Don Manish Attire and Travel in the Style of the Box-Car Tourists.

INT DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES
SANTA BARBARA, May 22.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A "hobo romance" was rudely interrupted by the police of this city, and culminated in Justice Wheaton's court this morning.

The heroine was formerly Miss Carrie Moore, a member of a wealthy Philadelphia family. Her grandmother is Mrs. Mary Schaefer, who runs a boarding-house in Pasadena.

The couple had gone West to visit Mrs. Schaefer seven weeks ago. She is 25, and impressionable. It appears that there she met L. Hoyt, who is 35, and a bon vivant. He had captured the heart of Mrs. Schaefer, and Miss Moore also fell a victim to his smile.

It required but a day for Hoyt's money to wear "fashionable neckties," and it appears that this has led to the wearing of neckties not considered fashionable, by some of the more "fashionable" people.

When the couple reached the Louisiana delegation memorialized the conference to either strike out the word "fashionable" or repeat the entire sentence as it resulted in confusion and misapprehension.

The present rule reads that sisters are to wear "plain dresses free from ornaments and ruffles, and plain bonnets, with a simple lace border or adornment."

In response to the request, the Standing Committee recommended the adoption of the following: "We advise our brethren against the wearing of neckties, and we do not consider them to be 'fashionable'."
